

ARCHIVE 01

PRE-OWNED · ONE OF EACH

REWORN.

WORN ONCE. WANTED TWICE.

THE IDEA

Clothes don't die. They change hands.

Most second-hand clothing is sold badly — a flat photo on a bed, a brand name, a price. Nothing about how the thing feels to wear, or what it does to everything else you own.

This archive is the opposite. Every piece was chosen one at a time, styled into a full outfit, and listed with its real size, its real material and its real flaws. Some are current branded stock. Some are archive — a 1990s Shanghai factory harrington, a Tokyo jacket with a red quilted lining nobody sees until you open it.

There is one of each. No size run, no restock, no second colourway. That isn't scarcity marketing. That's just what second-hand means.
